CABOT.

Death of Clyde Hill—Amputation of Limb Failed to Stay Disease.

Clyde Hill died at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hill, on Thursday, Feb. 9, after a long and painful illness. After suffering the amputation of a portion of his right lower limb at the Mary Fletcher hospital last fall, it was hoped he would rapidly recover, but he gradually failed, and the end came peacefully.

He was a graduate of the class of 1910 of the Cabot high school and was much respected by his schoolmates because of his manliness and uprightness of character.
The funeral was held Sunday last, the twenty-first birthday anniversary of the deceased, at his late home, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Rev. F. E. Currier conducted the service and spoke very interestingly and appropriately. The floral tributes from the class of 1910, the high school, and the grand were beautiful, and expressed, in a measure, the high regard in which the deceased was held. Clara Garney, Ernest Witham, Paul Hopkins and Elwyn Kittredge, former schoolmates, were the bearers. The Good Templars, about sixty in number, conducted the service at the tomb, where the remains were temporarily deposited.

The parents, grandparents and relatives have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their great bereavement.

Miss Jessie Beaton was home over Sunday from Montpelier seminary.
H. H. Foster was in Barre and Montpelier two days the past week on business.

George Wallbridge has returned from several days' visit with relatives in Williamstown.

M. J. Beaton was called to Milan, Quebec, Friday by the death of his brother, Donald.

The prize speaking contest comes off next Tuesday evening. There will be a supper served to the high school pupils and their parents, and to any one else at 20 cents for grown people and 15 for children under twelve years of age.

The basketball team went to Hardwick Tuesday evening to play with the Independents the game resulting in a score of 37 to 9 in favor of the Independents. The Cabots did not have their feet properly shod to prevent them from sliding on the slippery floor.

Mrs. G. L. Wiswell was quite seriously injured Thursday by being tipped from a sleigh while out riding. She is now confined to her bed with an injury to her hip, which she broke several years ago and which has necessitated the use of a crutch ever since.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hill and Fred Hill wish to extend thanks to all those who so kindly assisted them during the illness of Clyde Hill; also for the many little expressions of love and sympathy.

RANDOLPH.

A daughter was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kent at the sanatorium. Dr. Gilman Wheeler of Boston was a guest at Judge and Mrs. J. W. Rowell's Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Munson of Morrisville were over-Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Huse.
Mrs. N. C. Greene was comfortable Sunday morning and it was thought that the disease would reach the crisis on to-day or to-morrow.
George Webster and Mr. and Mrs. House, who were here for the funeral of Mrs. Webster at East Randolph, left here Saturday for their homes in Rutland and Barre.
George E. Lamb stopped on his way from Fort Ethan Allen for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lamb, and on Saturday returned to Fort Terry, New London, Conn.

Mrs. Elmer Flanders of Chelsea, who had been at the sanatorium for several days for treatment, was able to leave there Sunday and went to Mrs. F. W. Jewett's to remain for a time before going to her home.

F. H. Joslyn was taken suddenly ill on Wednesday of last week and almost as quickly nearly lost his sight and did not recover the same in any degree till the following day, when an improvement was noticed, which has gained very slowly up to the present time. The trouble is said to be the result of some derangement of the nerves. At the present time Mr. Joslyn is able to distinguish light from darkness, but cannot discern objects clearly.

About 200 persons assembled in parish house Friday evening for the annual roll call of Bethany church, who were first treated to a chicken pie supper with other delicacies. Following this, the roll call of members present, who responded alphabetically by rising, while letters and responses from absent ones were read. The address of the evening came next in order and Rev. Donald Fraser of Woodsville, N. H., was introduced and gave a very interesting talk upon church work in general and several lines in particular, all of which was generously seasoned with wit and many apt illustrations, making the whole address one of rare merit.

BROTHERS IN CONTEST

For Position of Overseer of the Poor in St. Albans.

St. Albans, Feb. 20.—The Republican city caucus to nominate candidates to be voted for at the annual meeting on March 7, was held in the city hall Saturday evening, and resulted: Selden C. Greene re-nominated for mayor; B. Melvin Hopkins for clerk and treasurer, and John A. Jarvis for overseer of the poor. The only contest was over the office of overseer, and this was between Nap. Jarvis, the present incumbent, who has held the position for several years, and his brother, the successful contestant, who won out by a big majority. It was said after the caucus that the defeated candidate would file nomination papers and run independently.

The Democrats named the following straight ticket: Alderman Jeremiah F. O'Neill for mayor, William Shannon for clerk and treasurer and Hiram N. Lampman for overseer.

Candidates for aldermanic honors were nominated as follows: Ward 1, Stephen S. Cushing, Republican; ward 2, N. J. Jarvis, Democrat; ward 3, Julius Barrette, Republican; and Joseph Ferron, Democrat; ward 4, Patrick Sullivan, Democrat; ward 5, Thomas Roach, Democrat; and F. J. Sisco, Republican.
The following candidates for school commissioners were named: Ward 1, G. F. Barker, Republican; ward 2, William H. Finn, Democrat; ward 3, Alexander Tuscany, Republican and Democrat; ward 4, S. H. Watkins, Democrat; ward 5, James Kennedy, Democrat; and E. F. Stevens, Republican. Caucuses in wards not voted will be held to-day and to-morrow.

Consumption Often Develops From Pneumonia

Consumption readily attacks those who have had Pneumonia. Many sufferers from tuberculosis give up the idea of having had pneumonia. The lungs thus weakened are more easily attacked by the germs that cause consumption. For all those with "weak lungs," especially those who have had pneumonia, Eckman's Alternative is the appropriate remedy. Cures of consumption are accomplished by Eckman's Alternative. But take it in time. There is no wisdom in waiting until tuberculosis is established. Health is never fully valued until sickness comes. A remarkable recovery follows—240 Powelton Ave., Phila., Pa. Gentlemen: "I wish I had known of Eckman's Alternative two years ago. Since taking it I have gained twenty-eight pounds and I cannot but be very thankful to you and the Almighty God for the great blessing and change of health it has brought me." (Signed) THOMAS REILLY, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Affections. Ask for booklet of cures and write to the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

MONTPELIER.

Forger Sentenced to State Prison, Diamond Ring Found.

Arthur McCullough was sentenced Saturday in city court to two and one-half years in the state's prison at Windsor for forgery and was fined $100 for passing bogus checks on local merchants. He was taken to Windsor Saturday. McCullough's grip was found in Fayston Friday night in possession of his brother-in-law, who took it with him from the hotel in Waitsfield, where McCullough was arrested. It was brought to the store of Wheelock and Dawley and opened, with a diamond ring and a mesh bag, purchased at the Phillips & Lucas store were found. A check was also found signed by H. O. Ward with the initial B under the signature and was made out to Frank Jackson. It had been endorsed with the name Frank Jackson and it was readily seen that all the writing was done by the same person. It was dated February 14, and three other checks torn from the check book of Carmi Gibbs of Waitsfield were also found with it, all bearing the name of Hunt, a fur dealer. This is the name McCullough used when he passed the bad check at Bailey & Taff's store. It was also discovered that he had bought a $2,000 insurance in the Equitable of Carmi Gibbs, while in Waitsfield and had paid $25.80 on the premium. The two firms on which McCullough passed the checks lost $237, and the total amount recovered from him was $181. The ring was returned to the Phillips & Lucas store and the money will be divided according to the court's decision. The officers were anxious to get possession of the ring, as McCullough denied that he was the purchaser. After the finding of the grip, he confessed to the forgery, but said he was influenced by a man from Chazy, N. Y., but that the latter did not receive any of the money.

The body of Dennis Sweeney, formerly of Berlin, but lately residing in St. Albans, was brought here this noon for burial in the Catholic cemetery. He was the father of the late Daniel Sweeney of this place, and is survived by five children, Mrs. John E. Maun, Mrs. Michael H. O'Hearne, Misses Mary, Sarah and Elizabeth Sweeney and Edward D. Sweeney, all of St. Albans. Mr. Sweeney was 81 years of age.

William H. Herriek, eminent grand inspector of the grand commandery, Knights Templar, of Vermont, started to-day on a tour of inspection of the various commanderies throughout the state. Taft commandery of Burlington will be visited to-night, Killington commandery of Rutland to-morrow night and Mt. Calvary of Middlebury Wednesday night.

City court had four cases of intoxication before it Saturday in its new quarters in the city hall. Joseph Chiquette, one of the men arrested in the Central Vermont station, denied that he was intoxicated, but the court fined him $15 and costs. He appealed. George McMahon and Michael Doyle, of St. Albans, also arrested in the station on the same charge, were each fined $15 and costs. They were sent to jail. Jones, the other member of the party, was fined $5 and costs, but will serve the alternate sentence in jail.

The fifth annual meeting of the Vermont section of the Classical Association of New England will be held in the Kellogg-Hubbard library hall Saturday, February 25, for two sessions, one at 10 a. m. and the other at 1:30 p. m. The mention of the name of Henry Clay Work, writer of "Marching Through Georgia," and other war songs, at the recent patriotic concert, recalls the circumstance that this writer was a cousin of the late Lyman Work of this place.

Mrs. Charles A. Badger and her daughter, Clara, formerly of this place, now living in East Montpelier, have both been suffering from ill health for some time, but are now reported to be better.

A meeting of the fire district was held Saturday evening to complete the organization and transact other business. The meeting was called to order by J. E. Martin, chairman of the prudential committee. James Gregory was elected foreman of the company, Carroll Dutton assistant.

A committee on constitution and by-laws was appointed, consisting of Henry Poole, C. M. Edson and James Gregory. They voted a tax of ten cents on the grand list. The bucket brigade plan was favored with volunteer service under the foreman. Extension ladders go with the general equipment. As an extra provision, a number of chemical extinguishers are to be kept, each in a different place, within the district, and cards kept posted indicating where these may be found.

VERMONT GAINED IN SLATE OUTPUT

But Pennsylvania Showed a Great Falling Off During the Year 1909, According to U. S. Geological Survey.

Disturbed trade conditions in the slate industry in 1909 caused a marked falling off in the amount of slate quarried in the United States, although Vermont, Maine and Maryland showed increased production. Pennsylvania, however, exhibited a very heavy loss in 1909, the output having a total value of only $2,892,338, as against $3,902,939 for the preceding year. Inasmuch as this state produces more than half the slate quarried in this country, these figures affect the total output very considerably. The nine producing states in 1909 reported a total value of $5,441,418 for the amount of slate quarried, whereas in 1908 the value was $6,316,817.

Slate Yield in 1909 Smallest Since 1901. The quantity of slate produced in 1909 was, in fact, the lowest since 1901. The curving-in of several important quarries and the hindrance to work caused by labor troubles at others were important causes of the abnormal decrease.

Maryland and Vermont gain. Maryland and Vermont were the only states to show an increase in the value of roofing slate quarried. More than 80 per cent. of the total value of the slate output is represented by slate for roofing, and in most of the producing states this is practically used only for roofing. Notwithstanding the greatly decreased production or roofing slate, the price fell from $3.80 to $3.87 per square—a unit which represents the amount of slate required to cover 100 square feet of roof.

Fewer Blackboards Used. Mill stock figures did not change greatly in 1909 from those of 1908. Less slate was used in the manufacture of school slates and blackboards than in former years, but the demand for mill stock for other purposes increased considerably. Slate is gaining wider use as a material for flooring, wainscoting, tiles, electrical switchboards, mantels and table tops.

Statistics Published by the Geological Survey. Statistics of the slate industry are given in an advance chapter on the production of slate, from "Mineral resources of the United States, calendar year 1909," prepared by A. T. Coons of the United States geological survey, which may be obtained free by applying to the director of the survey at Washington.

Treatment of Slate Waste. The report devotes considerable space to the problem of the disposal of slate waste. No extensive use has yet been found for the large quantity of waste—about 80 per cent. of the slate quarried—which forms an expensive but seemingly necessary product of a slate quarry. Much time and labor have been devoted to the waste, but a satisfactory use for the waste has yet to be found.

Present Uses of Waste. Slate waste has been employed as a filler for fertilizers, making point for flagging and for mending roads, but none of these uses are a source of income. In Norway, slate waste has been mixed with casing and hardened, the resulting product being much likely freshly quarried slate in appearance and properties.

Life Saved at Death's Door.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes W. R. Patterson of Wellington, Tex., as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 100 pounds, in spite of doctor's treatment for two years. My father, mother and two sisters died of consumption, and that I am alive to-day is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now weigh 187 pounds and have been well and strong for years. Quick, safe, sure, it's the best remedy on earth for coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, croup and all throat and lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Norwich Minstrels Scored a Success Saturday Evening.

The Norwich university minstrels made their initial appearance in Barre at the opera house Saturday night and played to a large audience. The college boys presented a show that lost nothing by comparison with the several excellent amateur minstrel performances staged at the local house in years past, and the audience was not slow in voicing its approbation at every turn. For the first part of the program, a well trained circle of fifty cadets in dress coats and duck trousers, and six black-faced comedy artists at the ends were effectively set off by a background arranged in the college colors, in the center of which was placed a single Norwich banner. The solo following team, a with new and up to date features that won repeated applause.

A medley overture, comprising ten popular hits, creditably arranged by the accompanist, Mrs. H. A. Whitney, was rendered by the company ensemble for the opening and was just about the last word in tunefulness. The individual numbers following in the first part were all well rendered, although the work of Messrs. Kelly, Heathfield, Lente and Colburn are deserving of special mention. A hatful of local hits, cross fire and gags kept the audience in good humor throughout.

Of the second part numbers, the baritone solo, "Hats, Hats, Hats," from the "Bachelor Belles," was easily the favorite. A realistic whiff of ozone from Reno was a pugilistic sketch entitled, "The Star Bout," in which Clarence Murray as "Philadelphia Jack," and F. H. Colburn as "James Jefferson," figured as the principals. Heathfield and Colburn, German comedians, in a aeroplan sketch were responsible for seven laughs. It was significantly appropriate also that the aviators failed unexpectedly to aviate. The concluding specialty, an exhibition drill by three picked squads under the command of Captain N. W. Richmond introduced the grand finale, the entire company singing, "I Want to Be a Soldier," under Kelly acting as soloist.

To much credit for the success of the production cannot be given to the accompanist, Mrs. H. A. Whitney, R. N. Newcomb, conductor, and to F. H. Colburn, under whose direction the show was staged. Dr. H. A. Whitney, the college surgeon, also acted creditably in the capacity of interlocutor. The proceeds of the performance will be used for baseball purposes the coming spring. The members of the company returned to Northfield on the midnight train.

Opening of King and Lynn Stock Company To-night.

To-night at the opera house the famous King and Lynn Stock company will open a six-night's engagement with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, the bill scheduled for to-night is Milton Noble's American drama, "From Sir to Son," a play of the golden west in the early sixties. Mr. Danon, the leading man will be seen as "Alfred Armitage."

FRANK A. STOLLE
With King and Lynn Stock Company

tags" a gambler, Clara Emerson will have the role of "Mable Armitage," in the first act and that of the daughter of "Alfred" in the third and fourth acts. Grace Renton, the soprano, in the role of "Aurelia Stockup," has a part that fits her charming personality like a glove. Teh comedy will be in the hands of Messrs. King and Lynn. Jack Lynn playing the part of "Peter Grimes," the postmaster and express agent at Yuba. Mr. King will have the role of "Dr. Marmaduke Mandrake." Between the acts five first class vaudeville acts, direct from the Kith & Proctor circuit will be given. These acts as well as the plays will be changed at every performance. The King and Lynn Stock company has broken all records this season at The Strong theatre, Burlington, open house, Rutland, open house, Keene, N. H., and Brattleboro and are on their way back to play return engagements in all of these cities. Prices for the engagement here are, evenings, 10, 20 and 30 cents, Matinees, 10 cents. Seats are now on sale at Kendrick's drug store.

One Wire for Many Voices.
"Hello! Is this New York?"
"Yes."
"This is Honolulu, in the Hawaiian islands. Give me the Platiron building. That is the sort of long distance telephoning we shall soon be able to do. Indeed, there is every prospect that within a short time people will talk from Chicago to London over a wire. We may even send a whisper direct from Boston to Peking, China, or actually transmit spoken messages around the world. All of this as the result of an invention just patented by Major George O. Squier, of the signal corps, United States army. He has made a free gift of it, however, to the American people, and anybody is at liberty to use it without paying a cent for the privilege.

The invention does not merely promise to provide a means whereby one may telephone for a distance almost indefinitely. It also makes practicable the employment of a single wire for the simultaneous sending of a number of messages, whether by the voice or by telegraph.

Briefly described, the method adopted is one whereby wireless messages are sent over a wire—a sort of "wireless," as Major Squier calls it. A parable, one might say. But the matter will be better understood when it is explained that the messages travel not through the wire itself, but through a thin layer of ether surrounding the wire. All that the wire does is to act as a guide.—From "Many Talk on One Wire," in March Technical World Magazine.

GOLD DUST

Digs Deep After Germs

GOLD DUST not only cleans but sterilizes. Soap merely washes over the surface, leaving a greasy film behind it.

GOLD DUST "goes to the bottom," and insures absolute purity and sanitary safety. Why not sanitize your home, as well as clean it?

Soap needs muscle help; GOLD DUST does all the hard part of the task without your assistance.

GOLD DUST is a good, honest, vegetable-oil soap, to which are added other purifying materials in just the right proportions to cleanse easily, vigorously, and without harm to fabric, utensils or hand.

Foolish, indeed, is the woman who tries to get along without GOLD DUST.

Do not use Soap, Naphtha, Borax, Soda, Ammonia or Kerosene with Gold Dust. Gold Dust has all desirable cleansing qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form.
